ROBOTECH CAD - BIM - FM SOLUTIONS

Certified Autodesk Software Training

Robotech offers classroom training, custom project-lead training and consulting for all our supported Autodesk and ARCHIBUS applications. Training is conducted in small groups in our Hoboken Authorized Training Center ("ATC") or on the customer's site. Various CAD, BIM and CAFM certified courses are taught by professional certified trainers with industry experience. All courses are hands on with real life exercises and adhere to the software official curriculum.

Custom Training includes an initial meeting or call to specify the applications and goals. A customized program is developed with a course outline and schedule. Custom programs are spaced out to provide students with time to absorb and practice the subject matter. The custom program can revolve around an actual project, with on-going consulting and support for a successful completion of the project.
